

12-drawer Storage Cabinet

This storage cabinet offers a stylish solution to an old problem. Where do we keep all the treasures — and the junk — that never seem to find a home anywhere else in the house? Nothing beats a drawer.

When it comes to making the cabinet, though, the thought of having to build a dozen drawers can be a little overwhelming. Fortunately, they're built using a straightforward technique of locking rabbets. In fact, the whole cabinet is a series of rabbets and dados. Best of all, its slim profile doesn't take up a lot of space, so you can put it anywhere.
